Subject: Letter of Appreciation and Endorsement for SmartDrive Assist

Dear Ivaan,

On behalf of BraveHeart Soldier Foundation and in our capacity as an organisation working in close association with the Department of Ex-Servicemen Welfare (DESW), Ministry of Defence, we write this letter with great pride and appreciation following our recent interaction with you regarding your innovation, SmartDrive Assist.

In our work with ex-servicemen, their widows, and dependents, mobility is one of the most pressing and persistent challenges we encounter. A significant number of veterans, particularly those who have sustained injuries in service, rely on wheelchairs for their daily movement. The reality on the ground is difficult. Manual wheelchairs, while affordable, are physically exhausting to operate, particularly for ageing veterans or those with limited upper-body strength. Electric wheelchairs, though far more convenient, remain out of reach for most families due to their high cost. This gap has long been a concern for us, and it is a challenge we encounter regularly in our outreach and rehabilitation work.

It was, therefore, both surprising and deeply encouraging to meet you, a nine-year-old student, who not only identified this very gap but has taken meaningful steps to address it. Your concept of a low-cost retrofit kit that can convert a standard manual wheelchair into a motor-assisted one, while retaining the option of manual use and incorporating safety features such as obstacle and edge detection, reflects a level of thoughtfulness and empathy that is rare at any age.

What impressed us equally was your intent. You did not come to us to simply present your idea. You came to listen, to understand the lived experience of those who need such a solution, and to ensure that what you build is grounded in real need. That approach, putting the user at the centre of the design process, is what separates a good idea from a product that can truly make a difference.

We are pleased to formally endorse SmartDrive Assist as an initiative with significant potential for social impact, particularly for communities such as the ex-servicemen population we serve. We believe that with continued development and the right guidance, this can grow from a student innovation into a product that meaningfully improves the quality of life for hundreds of thousands of people across India and beyond.

We wish you the very best in this journey, Ivaan. Keep asking the right questions, keep listening to those who need to be heard, and keep building with purpose. You have already shown that age is no barrier to making a real difference.
